

SUGGESTED READING

F304 -WWII Along the Baltic Sea (Ed Janusz)

Of the countless books on WWII, I found the following to contain the best treatment of the indicated topics:

Historical Analyses of Major WWII Events (Including Operation BARBAROSSA): Cowley, Robert (and others). No End Save Victory, Perspectives on World War II. New York, NY. G.P. Putnam's Sons. 2001

Overall Western Strategy for Europe: Roberts, Andrew. Masters and Commanders – How Four Titans (Roosevelt, Churchill, George Marshall, Alan Brooke) Won the War in the West. HarperCollins, New York, NY, 2008

Yalta Conference: Plokhy, S.M. Yalta, the Price of Peace. Viking Press, New York, NY. 2010.

Racial Policies of Hitler and Stalin: Snyder, Timothy. Bloodlands; Europe Between Hitler and Stalin. Basic Books, New York, NY. 2010

Operations on the Eastern Front During the Last Year of the War:

Ericson, John. Road to Berlin, London. Cassell. 1983

Beevor, Anthony. The Fall of Berlin 1945. New York, NY. Penguin Books.2002

Glantz, David. (Numerous Publications), University of Kansas Press

Displaced Persons in Germany: Wyman, Mark. DP: Europe's Displaced Persons 1945-1951. Cranberry, NJ. Associated University Presses. 1989.

Poland's Contribution to WWII: Olson, Lynne and Cloud, Stanley. A Question of Honor. New York, NY Alfred A. Knopf (Division of Random House) 2003.

Non – WWII, but relevant to the course:

History of Poland (Including the Polish/Lithuanian Commonwealth) From a Polish Perspective: Zamoyski, Adam. The Polish Way. A Thousand Year History of Poles and Their Culture. New York, Hippocrene Books, 1987

Polish/Lithuanian Commonwealth: Sienkiewicz, Henryk. Trilogy- Composed of Three Books: With Fire and Sword; Deluge; Fire in the Steppe. (Translated by Kuniczak, W.S.). New York, NY. Hippocrene Books, 1991. ¹

Poland and Lithuania Within the Russian Empire:

Radzinsky Edvard. Alexander II, The Last Great Tsar. Free Press, New York, NY 2005

Storozynski, Alex. The Peasant Prince , Thaddeus Kosciuszko and the Age of Revolution.

Thomas Dunn Books, New York, NY, 2009

¹A historical novel, by a Nobel Prize winning author. It is the unquestionable classic of Polish literature.
