Fun Facts for OLLI's 30-Year Anniversary

By Ray Beery, OLLI Member and Former President

In 2021, OLLI celebrates its 30th year of classes for seniors. This feature provides fun facts and interesting milestones about our institute each week that E-News is published throughout the year.

January 1

A survey of new members in 1992 showed that most came because they were invited by Learning in Retirement (LRI) members or read about LRI in the news. The one outstanding negative was the lack of space to socialize.

Computer Club

3rd Saturday (end of 2nd full week), January 16 via Zoom
Video Editing Fundamentals Plus

By Paul Howard, OPCUG Program Chair

The Computer Club (OLLI Personal Computer User Group, or OPCUG) will meet with its partner, the Potomac Area Technology and Computer Society (PATACS), on Saturday, January 16, via Zoom. Program activities begin at 1:00.

Video Editing Fundamentals Plus – Presented by John Krout

This demo will introduce you to the fundamental concepts and methods for editing videos on a personal computer. Compared to the bad old days of editing using videotape machines in the 1970s, computer-based video editing is a pleasure. Video editing with inexpensive software is much like using a word processor to edit text.

You will learn how to create videos including still images or videos, how to include creative transitions between one scene or video and the next, how to create video virtual backgrounds for Zoom, and even how to pan across and zoom into or out of still photos, Ken Burns style.

John Krout has been using the inexpensive Magix Movie Studio version 16 to create the monthly PATACS/OPCUG pre-meeting slide show videos starting with the April 2020 virtual meeting. He shot live video and created 30+ DVDs of high school concerts and Children's Theater stage performances when his daughters were performing in the public school system.

See full details on this meeting by clicking here. For information on the Computer Club, see the OPCUG Website. OPCUG dues are $5 for 2020—see <http://olligmu.org/opcug/comm.html> for details on making payment.

Attend via Zoom's cloud meeting service, beginning at 1:00. Please click the link below to join the webinar: <https://us02web.zoom.us/j/93730244342> and use Passcode 728227 or enter this Meeting ID from 'Join' in the Zoom app: 937 3024 4342 Passcode 728227.

Photography Club

By John Olsen and Edward Marion, Photography Club Coordinators

Guest Speaker for 8 January

The OLLI Photo Club guest speaker for their 8 January meeting, at 09:00, will be Ben Greenberg. Although his initial passion for photography came with the birth of his first son, Ben's primary goal for this 50-year passion has been capturing the full range of diverse natural beauty in landscape images of his native Virginia and 20 other states, and encouraging preservation of this beauty. Ben has received numerous awards in juried competitions.

His images are represented in many galleries and shops, primarily in central Virginia and West Virginia. Ben's first book, Natural Virginia, is available in bookstores and gift shops throughout the state. Numerous art consultants in Virginia and Maryland frequently purchase large versions of his color and black and white images for their clients.

Ben has devoted significant time to helping others learn, including teaching classes for UVA OLLI, leading workshops, giving presentations to groups, and providing mentoring in the field. He was a featured speaker for two presentations at the Nature Visions Photo Expo in Northern Virginia in 2016. More recently he has been adding wildlife to his landscapes and is planning a second book to emphasize the importance of preserving national, state, regional and local parks, preserves, and refuges, as shown by the sample images.

History and Current Events Program Planning Group

By Bernie Oppel, History and Current Events Program Planning Group Co-Chair

History traditionally has offered a very extensive and broad array of courses at OLLI. Our program planning group has been fortunate to consistently receive many course suggestions and find instructors to teach them from among our members and outside sources.

However, recent OLLI member surveys indicated strong interest, especially from newer members, in further broadening the scope and depth of our History offerings. Suggested possible history topics include China, Russia, Greece and Rome, and the history of infrastructure development. At present we do not know possible instructors for most of such courses.

Have a topic that inspires you and would interest OLLI members?

Interested in planning for future history courses? Know someone who has unique knowledge of a topic? Best of all, do you want to teach and share your interests? ZOOM instruction with technical support from OLLI makes it possible to teach from home with ease! Planning for 2021 summer and fall terms is now in progress, and we would love to hear from you soonest.

Please send your ideas, instructor suggestions, etc., to me at boppel1@verizon.net and I will forward the information to the other members of the History and Current Events Program Planning Group. And don't forget to include yourself as a possible instructor.

Winter 2021 Literature Course (F406) Changes

By Shannon Morrow, Program Associate

Ellen Moody is changing one of two books required for her winter 2021 literature course. Most simply put, read Ishiguro's The Remains of the Day instead of When We Were Orphans. One of the reasons for the change is that the film adaptation of The Remains of the Day is excellent. The course description is also different, noting (as the catalog did not) the movies we are going to discuss.

F406 Winter 2021 Two Novels of Longing Set in an Imperial Age
Wednesdays, 9:40–11:05, Jan. 27–Feb. 17 Instructor: Ellen Moody
Class limit: 40

The class will read as a diptych E.M. Forster's Howards End (1910) and Kazuo Ishiguro's The Remains of the Day (1989). Both examine class, race, war, fascism, and colonialism; in addition, the books treat family, sex, and property relationships from the "empire's center," England, from a post-colonial point perspective. The core centers of both novels are the human needs of their characters against capitalist, gender- and class-based backgrounds. On their own people should see either the 1992 Merchant-Ivory-Jhabvala film Howards End (w/Thompson & Hopkins) or the 2015 HBO serial, Howards End (Kenneth Lonergan w/Atwell & Macfayden); and the 1993 Merchant-Ivory-Jhabvala film The Remains of the Day (also w/Thompson & Hopkins). We can ask how ironic romances can teach us fundamental lessons about how to survive and thrive in today's worlds.

Ellen Moody has been teaching since 1972, 12 years with OLLI. She is a published scholar with specialties in the 18th through the 20th centuries. She has a special love for Bloomsbury novels, Booker Prize books, historical and political novels, and life-writing.

Would You Like to Join the E-News Team of Weekly Editors?

By Paul Van Hemel, E-News Chief Editor

After several years of valued service, Leslie Vandivere, one of the E-News weekly editors, will be taking a break from editing. Accordingly, we have an opening for another editor.

The task is relatively light; as a member of a five-person team, you will only be asked to edit every fifth issue. We publish each week when OLLI is in session and every two weeks between terms, so it is less than once a month. Content is supplied, and the weekly editor enters and formats the material for the draft issue, which can usually be done in a total of half a day or so. Then, on Wednesday, you send the draft to the proofreaders, who return comments by Thursday morning. You respond to proofreader comments by entering any needed changes, usually minor, by Thursday afternoon – typically less than an hour of effort.

We use MailChimp software to enter and format the material. I will provide information and instruction on MailChimp use, as well as style guidelines. Most of our weekly editors use personal computers with the Windows operating system, but we do have one editor who uses an Apple computer and operating system.

If you are interested in becoming an E-News editor, please let me know at enewseditor@gmail.com. Thanks!

Meet the Artistic Director of The Little Theater that Could!

By Norma Jean Reck, Coordinator, Theater Lovers' Group

Lucky for us, our smaller local theaters (as well as university schools of theater such as George Mason's) continue to perform in spite of the pandemic.

Please join the Theater Lovers' Group (TLG) on Friday, January 22, 2021 at 2:00 when Amanda Herman Snellings, Artistic Director for the City of Fairfax Theatre Company (CFTC), will join us in a Zoom session to tell us about how it succeeded in keeping its theater program alive. CFTC focuses its performing-arts experiences on the community and reflects the diversity and uniqueness of Northern Virginia. Its shows are multigenerational. Each year, CFTC produces a fall play for kids with kids, a spring drama for adults, and a summer musical with participants of all ages.

Next up at CFTC, from February 5 through 14, is Spellbound, which, according to Amanda, is "an interactive, virtual performance by Lars Klores, a practicing magician." She adds, "Spellbound is a reality-bending virtual performance featuring astounding acts of magic and mind-reading, with effects that happen in your own home." Each household will receive a sealed Mystery Package to be opened during the performance. For more information, visit www.fairfaxcitytheatre.org.

Amanda is thrilled to help lead the CFTC as its Artistic Director after having been involved in its productions for the past few years. She is a director, performer, and producer. In her non-theatre life, Amanda plans fundraising galas for the National MS Society. She grew up in Herndon, Virginia, and holds a BA in Theatre and Dance from James Madison University.

To join the TLG, please go to OLLI's web site at <https://olli.gmu.edu/>, click on the Member Portal, then on Register, and add Theater Lovers' Group as you would a class. Or email the registrar Sue Job at ollireg@gmu.edu and ask Sue to add your name to the TLG Fairfax. Everyone is welcome.

Poet's Corner

Courtesy of the Poetry Workshop

CROWS, THOSE CLEVER TRICKSTERS

Crows are highly intelligent,

With problem-solving skill sets,

A group is called a murder

Just ask your local birder.

Some crows play games as they fly—

Their flight is usually low, not high.

Prominent figures in fables,

They're very good at turning the tables.

They steal food, pester other birds, eat crops

Dead animals, garbage, other slops.

Crows love insects, seeds, nuts, and fruit

They're not endangered, nor are they cute.

Murder bands together; predators they will chase—

But be careful; crows never forget a face.

Caw, caw, caw is the cry of the crow

Some live near us; I wish they'd go.

Joan Lunsford

Obituary

O. Louis Mazzatenta

Lou Mazzatenta, treasured OLLI member who loved OLLI in return, died December 25. Retiring in 1994 after a 42-year career as a photographer at National Geographic, among editorial and other roles, he spent another several years in special studio and photographic assignments for the magazine. His work was featured in several US and other international publications, and in exhibitions in New York, Spain, Italy, and other locations. He received a BA in journalism from Kent State University and MS from Northwestern University's Medill School of Journalism.

Lou photographed many areas of the world, and especially enjoyed the archaeology of China and Italy. Among his achievements are the production and picture editing of articles on the restoration of Michelangelo's frescoes in the Sistine Chapel at the Vatican. At OLLI, he was a member of the Photography Club and valued presenter among speakers for their meetings.

Lou also loved Latin America and the Spanish language, giving highly-appreciated presentations on his travels throughout Latin America in Spanish conversation classes at OLLI. He will be remembered and greatly missed by his classmates and instructors as a fascinating friend and an extraordinary man.

Because of COVID, there will be a small private service for him, with burial at Fairfax Memorial Park; at a later time, there will be a larger celebration of his life. Memorial contributions in Lou's name may be made to Capital Caring Health. Further details are available at this link.
