Conversations With Friends

By Jennifer Disano, Executive Director

Think back to how you heard about OLLI. What drew your attention? Did you attend a guest lecture? Did you see an ad in the local paper or the Mason marquee on Braddock Road? Did you search "lifelong learning near me" on the internet? More than likely, a friend told you about OLLI and their testimonial captured your attention. Since OLLI's inception, conversations with friends have proven to be our best outreach tool. As you know, the pandemic limited many opportunities for you to be with friends. It certainly has been a quite a while since many of us have gotten together with our friends. Indeed, we miss each other. In the spirit of rekindling friendships and making new friends, I encourage you to invite someone you know to lunch or grab a cup of coffee and share how OLLI has enhanced your life experience. You will enjoy a lovely visit, and your friend may be very interested to try OLLI for the first time.

Weekly Conversations – October 26 Death Cafes

By Brenda Bloch-Young and Doris Bloch, Co-Moderators

Continuing our Wednesday Conversations series, we (Team Bloch) will moderate a Zoom discussion on Wednesday October 26 at 4:00, where every OLLI member is most welcome to join us to talk about our chosen topic for this week: Death Cafes. We encourage an informal interactive exchange, and we want to hear from you, OLLI members. Share your favorite. No sign-ups needed; participation is totally ad hoc.

Are you familiar with Death Cafes? Have you attended a Death Cafe? Actually, it is often informative and interesting to participate. Join us next Wednesday afternoon to share your experience or learn more. The concept began with "cafe mortels," created in 2004 by Swiss sociologist and anthropologist Bernard Crettaz. The events were adapted and popularized as "death cafes" by Jon Underwood, who held the first one in the basement of his London home. Pre-COVID, the events were in person, always including a beverage and cake. In the age of Zoom, it is possible to attend a Death Cafe across the country and the world by merely registering online.

Heads up for the following week's conversation: November 2: Daylight Savings Time – Pros and Cons and projections for the future of DST.

Each week, we pre-select a topic and advertise it in the OLLI E-News, the OLLI E-Blaster and/or Communicator, and the OLLI Daily Schedule email (so it will be "in your face" and hard to miss). If you have a suggestion for a topic that will be of interest to members, please do send it to one of us: (lbloch6@gmail.com) or (dbloch5@gmail.com).

Check your Daily Schedule for the Zoom link each Wednesday and plan on some social time with Team Bloch.

Washington and Old Dominion (W&OD) Trail Walk and Talk

By Marilyn Harriman and Bob Heye, OLLI Walk & Talk Co-Chairs

Phyllis Krochmal led club members on an invigorating 50-minute W&OD Trail walk on October 18. Starting at the Vienna Community Center on a sunny, chilly morning, the walkers headed east down the old Washington and Old Dominion Railroad tracks trail. They spotted deer among the trees, the city’s official monument to LOVE, the old railway station, and a refurbished caboose.

The asphalt path is buried amongst the tall trees full of Kudzu vines, making the path well protected and surrounded by the beauty of changing autumn leaves at this time of year. The trail itself stretches 52 miles from Purcellville through Leesburg to Arlington. The club hopes to cover most of the course over time.

Afterward, several group members enjoyed coffee and breakfast treats at the Café Amouri. The chatter was loud, and time was equal to the walk; worth cutting OLLI class for the camaraderie!

Upcoming walks include a walk led by Carol Esteki at Seneca Regional Park, 9:00, in Great Falls, on Friday, October 28; and a walk led by Debby Massberg on Fairfax trails, starting on Prosperity Avenue, 8:00, in Fairfax, on October 31. To sign up and learn more details, register for the club through the OLLI member portal or phone the main office at 703-503-3334.

Poet's Corner

Story Retelling

The ocean conveys a certain fascination
With its perennial ebb and flow
For one who first glimpsed its waves
As an adult, touched by their eternal nature,
Steady, reliable, ongoing. They kiss the shore
With regularity.
We scan beyond the breakers
For dolphin fins, and only now and then find them,
Reciprocal leaping in the delight of each other
And in the coolness of early morning.
We often return, drawn by a story
Forever retold.
