Computer Clubs Make Donations to OLLI
By Paul L. Howard, OLLI Computer Club Treasurer and Potomac Area
Technology and Computer Society President

On March 16, the Friends of OLLI (FOLLI) received two donations from area computer groups. One donation, in the amount of $250, was presented by the OLLI Personal Computer User Group (OPCUG).

A second donation, in the amount of $500, was presented by the Potomac Area Technology and Computer Society (PATACS). Since January 2009, when the computer groups started holding joint meetings, PATACS has donated $4,250 for enhanced technical resources and TA-1 facility improvements. In general, donations to FOLLI support items such as articles for classroom comfort, equipment enhancements, and scholarships to deserving Mason students in Mason departments that provide instructors for OLLI courses.

Join the AARP Scam Jam on Saturday

By Brenda Bloch-Young, Economics and Finance Program Planning Group Chair

To strike back against scammers, AARP Virginia and Fairfax County Government's Silver Shield Task Force are bringing together experts and law enforcement officials to present at a free informational Scam Jam from 9:00 – 12:00 on Saturday, April 29 (tomorrow) at Tallwood and on Zoom. OLLI members are aware that we are often the targets of these scams. This is an important event for us to learn more tips.

It’s In Your Hands!

By Debby Mossburg, Board Member and Outreach Committee Chair

Thanks to ten helpful OLLI members, an OLLI promotional ad has been placed in community newsletters in Burke Centre, Greenbrier, Penderbrook, Wakefield Chapel Woods, South Riding, Kings Park West, Rustfield, Ravensworth, and South Run Oaks, as well as with a group of Reston runners/walkers. As a result, we’ve gotten the word out to thousands of households at no cost, hopefully to add members and so keep down members’ tuition costs.

If you’d like to add your community to the list—and its easy to do—please contact Debby Mossburg at debby.mossburg@verizon.net or Jim Dann at jimandsue70@gmail.com. We’ll send the ad on to you, and you just have to forward it with a note to your newsletter’s contact person.

You’ve got the power to make a real difference! Thank you.

History Club Meeting

By Elizabeth Lambert, History Club Coordinator

The last meeting of the History Club for this term will take place on Wednesday, May 3 at 4:00. Our presenter will be Peter Ansoff, and his topic will address a mysterious flag of the American Revolutionary War Navy that was flown in Philadelphia 21 years before the revolution, when the colonists were still the King's loyal subjects. The answer to this mystery involves events on three continents, including some maritime history, some art history, and even an excursion into the history of beer. Clearly there is something here for everyone, and it is a fitting end to our presentations this year.

The History Club will not meet again until October, so take advantage of this chance to gather and to learn something new. Those who have attended Peter’s classes know that his presentation of "The Continental Colors in Philadelphia in 1754?" will be an excellent one.

Proofreader(s) Needed for OLLI E-News

By Sheri Siesseger, E-News Weekly Editor

We are seeking one or two members to volunteer to proofread E-News. A proofreader’s job is to review all articles for spelling, punctuation, grammar, syntax, consistency, and clarity. We have, and will provide, guidelines that cover some issues that are specific to E-News.

We publish weekly beginning one week before classes are in session, with occasional issues during the between-term periods. The proofreading commitment is typically a period of less than one hour per week. Editors send a draft version to the proofers no later than 6:00 on Wednesday evening (often earlier), and comments must be returned to the editor by 10:00 Thursday morning.

A bonus to proofreading E-News is that you will know what is happening at OLLI Mason several days before most other members! If you can help, please contact me at the OLLI E-News mailbox: ollienewseditor@gmail.com.

May 3 Team Bloch Conversation

By Brenda Bloch-Young and Doris Bloch, Co-Moderators

Continuing our Wednesday Conversations series, Team Bloch (Brenda Bloch-Young and Doris Bloch) will moderate a Zoom discussion on May 3 at 4:00. Our chosen topic this week is "Will Social Security thrive or survive?"

Is Social Security approaching insolvency? If no revisions are made, projections suggest a 23% reduction in benefits in 2033. Options for maintaining current benefit levels are to increase the payroll tax, raise the retirement age, or possibly revise how the benefit is calculated. What are your thoughts? Any creative remedies to share?

Check your Daily Schedule for the Zoom link on Wednesdays and join Team Bloch for some social time.

Technology Risks Survey Research Study

By Dr. Vivian G. Motti, Mason Assistant Professor, Department of Information Sciences and Technology

We are conducting a research study (survey) to characterize the level of awareness of older adults about technology risks (privacy). Participation takes around 20 minutes. We appreciate if you share the survey with the OLLI community to complete the questions using the link below. There are no known risks involved in this research.

The survey includes a few short videos about privacy and security for information purposes. For more information about the study and access to the survey questions, click this link. Thank you.

National Poetry Month is coming to a close, but we must not let it go before announcing that long-time OLLI member Joan Lunsford has had one of her poems accepted for an anthology,
Our Changing Earth, to be published by The Poet Magazine, an online literary platform. Her poem also was the magazine's featured poem on April 8, 2023.

Every Litter Bit Hurts
By Joan Lunsford

"Please, please, don't be a litter-bug
'Cause every litter-bit hurts?"

Remember the ad we heard on TV?
Way, way back in 1953?
I took that to heart and you'd never see
Trash thrown out of a car by me.

But it's common now to see debris
On sidewalks, roads, and in the sea.
Do they think things thrown from afar
Magically disappear, without a scar?

Plastic's a real hazard, as you may know.
Tons of it pollute our oceans with nowhere to go.
Fish and other sea life think that it's food
So they eat it; we eat them; not good.

Or is it fitting, somehow, that we become obsolete
From the food we have thrown in the sea and the street?
Yes, every litter bit hurts, even more than we thought
So let's turn this around and do what we were taught.

Joan is part of the Poetry Workshop and read in The Poets of OLLI's 17th Poetry Reading earlier this month.
